Present Saddle (Make & Model) _____ Size _____"s

Issues that you are having in that saddle, and what changes you would like to see. Please take pictures of you sitting in that saddle on your horse. _____

Depending on the discipline; Eventer, Hunter or Jumper, a rider will normally have a preference to the degree of forwardness of the flap and position of the knee-roll.

Often called the 'Linebackers' position it is a position where you are balanced standing flat on your feet – it is also the same position you should be in, when sitting in your neutral position in the seat of a jumping saddle – that position is determined by the discipline, and the comfort to rider and their horse (live weight). With the aid of another person, assume that position where your quadriceps (shown by the red dashed line in the picture below) are just activated (Too much activation for women, can cause back strain, and will eventually cause over-developed quads). Have someone take a picture of you in this stance and also measure from the bottom of your feet, to the center of your knee-cap, from the center of your knee-cap, to the point where the femur (upper-leg, connects to the pelvis), and then from that point, to the top of your pelvis. And then measure the distance from the center of the waist to forwardness of knee (orange lines). RECORD MEASUREMENTS BELOW LEFT
